

Innovation in Higher Education: Building Capacity for Inclusive Leadership

Tuesday, February 21 | 9:00 a.m. – 11:00 a.m. EST

How can educational institutions leverage the liberal arts and multidisciplinary approaches to promote values and practices of inclusion? What strategies can we employ to spur and sustain critical discourse across the disciplines and perspectives? How do we translate capacities attained through higher education into creative problem-solving to address some of the most pressing and divisive global problems of our time?

The Vassar Institute for the Liberal Arts invites you to join us to discuss efforts to develop inclusive leadership through the liberal arts with our global partners.
